Case Study

Our client faced difficult trading conditions and was subject to a winding up application. In an attempt to stop the company being wound up and the business lost, the company Director sought out the assistance of Shine's Business Recovery Division.

As a result of the team's expert advice, our client was able to:

- Stop enforcement of debts by creditors, including unwanted phone calls
- Continue to trade
- Prevent assets from being sold off
- Maintain its trading licences
- Maintain existing contracts
- Pay employee entitlements
- Enter into a tailored, manageable payment plan with its creditors.

The Director was also able to avoid a range of personal liabilities that she might have incurred due to her position, including liability that she faced from the ATO under a Director Penalty Notice.
