ISGM CLASS ACTION UPDATE: MARCH 2020

Robert Mutch vs ISG Management Pty Ltd

UPDATE FROM YOUR LEGAL TEAM

We write to provide you with an update regarding the class action against ISG Management Pty Ltd (ISGM), of which you are a Group Member.

We are pleased to advise that on Wednesday 18 March, Justice Bromberg (the Federal Court Judge in this case) delivered his judgment rejecting ISGM's application to 'de-class' this action.

Justice Bromberg determined that this case will continue to run as an 'opt out' class action. This means that all technicians fitting within the group definition are automatically included in the action, unless they 'opt out' when they are asked by the Court if they wish to do so at a later date.

We will provide you with further details of the Court's judgment and what it means for the action in due course. We also expect to provide Group Members with funding agreements for your consideration and signing in the coming weeks.

If you have any questions about this update, or would like to pass any information on to your legal team, please do not hesitate to contact us via the details below.

We are in the process of having this update translated into Hindi, Urdu and Arabic which we anticipate will be distributed in the coming days.

We thank you for your continued patience throughout this process, and will be in touch with further important updates.
